In academics and Latin Tweets, students compete only against those in their level of Latin. In art, they just compete against others in the same category/medium. An asterisk denotes that the student had the high score on that test, regardless of level of Latin.

1st in Latin I with a two-man team of Grayson Cobb and Sawyer Griffy.
3rd in Latin II, as Alaina Wilson, Henry Ott, and Kelsey May combined with a lone CHS student.
1st in Advanced with the power couple of Zachary Costa and Emily Caldarelli.

When students place in competitions of any kind, they earn Sweepstakes points for themselves and their school. 1st place is 15 points, 2nd is 12, etc. Schools are divided into classes based on the number of students coming to the competition and placed against other schools in their class based on Sweepstakes points. Emily Caldarelli scored the most Sweepstakes points while Grayson Cobb had the 4th most. They led Rossview to a 1st place finish in our class.
